

Although most of our legal advice and representation is provided by way of an hourly engagement, we offer all the following arrangements depending on the circumstances. Contact us for more info.

1

Initial (or one-time) consultation

For summary advice on professionalism questions or preliminary guidance on responding to a complaint. Includes a one-hour meeting and 15 minutes of reviewing relevant documents. Click here to book.

2

Advice retainer for law firms

On a subscription plan or an ad hoc hourly basis, Brooke can address legal ethics questions as they arise and help implement best practices to avoid regulatory issues in the future. Email Brooke to discuss.

3

Fixed-fee appeal opinion

An objective assessment of the merits of a potential appeal, as well as summary advice on the applicable procedure and standard of review. For more details, see our Appeal Opinion Information Sheet.

4

Good character application packages

Licensing applicants seeking assistance with the “good character” questionnaire and disclosure can purchase fixed-fee packages at discounted rates. See our Good Character Application Packages.

5

Partial contingency appeals

In some appeal retainers, clients can pay a discounted hourly rate or a fixed fee on the basis that a further “success premium” is payable only if we achieve a positive outcome. Book an intro call to discuss.

6

Hourly engagements

Available in all matters. Students and new calls can inquire about discounted rates. A retainer deposit will typically be required in trust before work can begin on the matter. Book an intro call to discuss.
